Interested in Information Science and Gender Perspective?

You want to enjoy a unique learning experience in an international group at in Spain? You want to learn about basic information science? You want to enroll in a MA program in LIS and come from another discipline or want to enroll in another university? You want to receive a student grant for participation?

European Summer School on Information Science and Gender (ESSISGEN 2025) is an intensive one-week teaching event for BA students who want to enroll in a MA program in information science. The lectures for core areas in LIS and Gender will enable students to close their knowledge gaps and to prepare better for MA programs.

You will meet students and professors from other countries and other schools of Information Science. Enjoy networking and studying with many other students.

Program

The core modules of ESSISGEN will cover following areas:

- Advances in Information Science
- Research Methodology in Information Science
- Principles of Information Organization and Retrieval
- Introduction to Gender Perspective in Research
- Artificial Intelligence in Information Science
- Digital Content Creation and Management

There will be interactive lectures and work on group assignments, workshops, groups discussions and gamification activities distributed along the week. In addition, a social program will allow you to experience Barcelona. All meals will be served at the premises and all classes will take place there. Rooms are reserved for participants from Monday until Saturday.

Students Grants

Several student grants are available for students who want to enter a MA program in LIS. Most grant recipients are nominated by the partner universities involved in the GEDIS project (<https://ub.edu/gedis>):

- Universitat de Barcelona (Spain)
- Universität Hildesheim (Germany)
- FH Kärnten – gemeinnützige Gesellschaft mbH
- Univerzitet u Sarajevu
- Sveučilište Josipa Jurja Strossmayera u Osijeku
- Sveuciliste u Zadru
- Slezská Univerzita v Opavě

Nominated students will receive room and board in Barcelona (5 nights) plus travel support of up to 300 € based on expenses.

Other students can register for a price of 450 € and are admitted if space is available.
