

INTERNATIONAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE

ECONOMIC AND SOCIETAL CHALLENGES OF THE EUROPEAN ECONOMY

The international scientific conference, titled as Economic and Societal Challenges of the European Economy, continues the tradition of conferences focused on the economic policy of EU member states, organised by the Silesian University in Opava, School of Business Administration in Karvina. This conference reflects the current situation in the European and global economy. Its aim is to discuss not only the present state of the European economy but also its future development and the potential challenges we may need to address.
